Designation is based on an index, which mathematically combines the student's ACT composite score and seventh semester GPA. All applicants must complete the FAFSA and State of Kansas Student Aid Application each year. The number of State Scholar designees is dependent on state funding levels.

Awards are based on financial need and/or other outside scholarships received.

◆ It is the responsibility of the student to reapply for funding each school year by May 1. ◆

Scholars who are not financially eligible for funding this year may be eligible in a following year and should apply for the scholarship each school year to officially learn of eligibility.

 - a. Your high school counselor or registrar should automatically report your information to the Kansas Board of Regents if you've completed the KSC. This is typically done in February-April.
- 3) Graduate high school during the 2021-2022 academic year; and
- 4) Be designated as a Kansas State Scholar by the Kansas Board of Regents.
 - a. Out of the approximately 6,000 high school seniors who complete the Kansas Scholars Curriculum each year, only the top 1/3 (roughly 2,000 students) are designated as Kansas State Scholars.

Kansas Degree Stats

The Kansas Board of Regents offers an interactive online tool to help estimate the cost of degree programs at Kansas public colleges as well as real employment earnings, job outlook information, and student loan repayment amounts based on reported statistics from actual Kansas graduates from each program.

www.ksdegreestats.org

There are many ways to use the Kansas Degree Stats tool. If you know the degree you are seeking, you can type the name of the degree into the search field to pull up all public colleges in Kansas that offer the degree. From there, you can select up to three colleges and compare them to see the difference in costs at each institution.

In the example below, we are looking at the cost of an associate's degree in Early Childhood Education versus a bachelor's degree at a four-year university. The actual costs may vary, but this tool gives you a close idea of what you can expect to pay for the two different types of degrees. In the bottom sections, the wages of Kansans who received these degrees are reported, as well as student loan repayment amounts for the degrees.

File the 2022-2023 FAFSA at FAFSA.gov!

When can I apply for federal aid?

- If you'll be attending college during the 2022-2023 school year, the FAFSA application opens online at fafsa.gov on October 1, 2021. You may file at any time, but keep in mind that the priority deadline to file in Kansas is April 1st. Many colleges may even require you to file sooner than April 1st in order to be in the running for their need-based financial aid, so check the deadlines set by your chosen college.

How do I apply for federal aid?

- First, you AND your parent(s) will need to create a Federal Student Aid ID. This ID is a username and password that is used to login to the FAFSA as well as other federal aid sites (like StudentLoans.gov). You may NOT share an FSA ID with your parent, each of you must create a separate login for yourselves under different social security numbers and email addresses.
- Once you've established your FSA ID, visit FAFSA.gov to begin the application. As you go through the application, assistance is available within the FAFSA application itself. If you need a more detailed answer, or you find that you're unable to answer a question due to a unique family situation, visit StudentAid.gov for helpful resources.

I've filed the FAFSA. Now what?

- The colleges you listed on your FAFSA will review your information and determine how much financial aid you qualify for. If you've applied to that college and have been accepted for admission there, the school will send you an award letter detailing how much federal financial aid (and other types of aid) you may be eligible to receive there. The cost of attending that college is also included in the award letter so you can compare college award letters to determine which school is a good financial fit for you.
